NEWS FROM THE ORIENT

Officials of the Chinese Government Settling Riot Claims.

WILL PROTECT FOREIGNERS

Japanese Plans for Representation at the World's Fair—American Laws Regarding Chinese.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 4.—The occidental and oriental steamers, Belgica, arrived this morning from China, Japan and Hawaii, bringing Chinese advices to Sept. 3. Japanese to the 16th, and Hawaiian to the 26th. The Overland China Mail of the 10th ult. says editorially: "It seems likely compensation will soon be paid by China for the damage done during the recent riots. The French claims at Wuhu are already settled and others will be adjusted soon. The treaty powers, however, find it more difficult to persuade China to open Hunan at a time when so many nations are following the example of the United States in their treatment of China. China is too weak to protest effectively against the bad treatment of her subjects, but the conduct of Americans, who have shown helplessness in the case of fairly dealing with Chinese, has not been observed with indifference. Only the other day Li Hung Chang sanctioned the proposal of the Chinese consul at San Francisco to transfer all claims of the Chinese coolies in America to old mines in the Amur district. Meanwhile, the government at Peking seems to realize the danger of mob rule. A tendency is being manifested for military governors of the provinces. Manchus seem to be afraid of an outbreak. The probability is the present crisis will pass over."

The North China News says: "During the last two years all the ministers with the powers at Peking have put up with insults and humiliations. If there is war, and there will be unless China meets our demands fairly and honestly, these anti-missionary riots will be merely the exciting cause. The real causes have been accumulating for years. The chief offender is the province of Hunan. From it emanates all the lying pamphlets and placards that stir up the people."

There was a large fire at Chung Kin August 8. When the fire engines were brought out only two of the thirteen were found in condition for use. It was soon discovered that the tea oil of the city had been used for the fire engines and the money provided for their maintenance. A mob of 10,000 attacked his dwelling two days later, and it was only with great difficulty that he escaped being torn to pieces. This outbreak gave rise at Shanghai to a rumor of another anti-missionary riot.

Japanese advices say that Japan will be well represented at the world's fair. One plan is to export a number of dancing girls to give zest to Japanese cookery and to display their special accomplishments. Another contemplates a large Japanese garden filled with horticultural curiosities. A number of pretty girls will also be sent, who, for a consideration, will decorate visitors' fans, etc. All accomplishments in which the Japanese excel will be represented.

RELIGION AT KALISPELL.

The First Church Organized in the New Flathead Town.

Special to the Standard.

KALISPELL, via Ravalli, Oct. 3.—The first church organized in this city is known as the First Presbyterian church of Kalispell, and starts with 17 members with more to follow soon. This church was organized Sept. 13, 1891, by Rev. Geo. McVey Fisher. It is fitting that the first church organized in this young vigorous town be Presbyterian, inasmuch as Mr. Fisher is the pioneer preacher of the Flathead valley and the most of the town at present is built on the land he filed on for about four years ago.

Preaching services are held every Sabbath in a new store room owned by the Townsite company. There are 100 chairs in this hall, and from present prospects more room and chairs will have to be provided in the near future. One very attractive feature of the church service is a quartette composed of young men of the town and their leader, E. H. Hubbard.

The Sabbath school in connection with this new church had on last Sabbath an attendance of 50, and is steadily growing in numbers and interest. Soon there will be erected a neat chapel, with seating capacity of not less than 250, to accommodate the church going people of the town. The Rev. Mr. Fisher, during a conversation with the correspondent of the STANDARD, said: "This is the long-looked-for day, and never since I first saw the valley five years ago, when I came out on a month's vacation, have I lost faith in its future."

On a Kite-Shaped Track.

STOCKTON, Cal., Oct. 4.—In exercising yesterday on the kite-shaped track Marvin drove Sunol half a mile in 1 minute and 3 seconds, and jogged the full mile in 2:12½. He speeded her only on the first half mile. Palo Alto trotted around the kite-shaped track in exercise in 2:11½. The track is very fast and all horsemen here predict Sunol will beat 2:06 when she is sent against the record. The meeting next Tuesday promises to be fast.

Carried Out His Threat.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Oct. 4.—Word reached here this morning that Fritz Zern, an old soldier and musician of the First cavalry, shot and killed his wife, mortally wounded his mother-in-law and then shot himself in the mouth four times. He will probably die. Zern was divorced from his wife and threatened, when intoxicated, to kill her. He went to the house, about ten miles in the country, and demanded admission, which was refused him. He then commenced firing.

LIVINGSTON NOTES.

Work of Cattle Thieves—Closing Hotels in National Park.

Special to the Standard.

LIVINGSTON, Oct. 3.—An attempt was made a few nights ago to run off a band of cattle, ranging south of the Yellowstone river near this city. The cattle were driven up Yellowstone street at an early hour in the morning and attracted the attention of parties living in that vicinity who came up the next morning and notified James Milligan and Messrs. Bros., who range a large number of beef cattle near Livingston. These parties secured a warrant and immediately started in pursuit of the stock, and after trailing them to a point about 10 miles west of Livingston found the cattle cached in the mountains. The officers have been unable to locate the guilty parties. It is thought that the cattle were taken with the intention of butchering them and selling the beef at Timberline and Cokedale.

All of the hotels in the park have been closed for the season with the exception of the Cottage hotel at Mommboth Hot Springs, which will close Monday. Wednesday the last round-trip ticket from this place to Wonderland was sold, and the park train will be taken off in a few days. Travel over the company's route has fallen several hundred short of last year, but the travel by private conveyance has largely increased.

LOST BOTH LEGS.

Sad Accident to a Northern Pacific Brakeman.

Special to the Standard.

MISSOULA, Oct. 4.—A sad accident occurred at Arlee this morning at 6:15 o'clock. W. S. Ely, a brakeman on Conductor Alexander's train, was walking along the track to a switch which he was to watch to prevent any other crew from throwing. A hog engine came up behind him and striking him, threw him onto the track and passed over his legs below the knees. One leg was almost severed from the body. When he arrived here at the hospital, Drs. Hillman and McCullough and Dr. Woodruff found it necessary to amputate both legs below the knee. The patient bore the operation bravely, and this evening is doing fairly well, although he has not yet recovered from the shock. His home is in Tuscola, Mich., and he has been in the employ of the Northern Pacific for three years.

Mysterious Allusions.

POOR CURTH VON EUEN.

An Unfaithful Wife Causes Him to Attempt Self-Destruction.

Special Correspondence of the Standard.

DEMERSVILLE, Oct. 2.—Curth Von Euen, the man who shot himself on Wednesday, will likely terminate in death before 24 hours' time. He was a former resident of St. Paul and figured there as a citizen of some prominence. He is now owned $25,000 worth of the stock of Volks Zeitung, a German paper published there, and is conceded by the German speaking people to be the best paper published in the West in their language. As well as having considerable money himself, his people were wealthy, and therefore in his younger days did not know the value of a dollar as well as one who is only possessed of energy and brains. During the time he lived in St. Paul he married the lady he has been living with up to the present time. After marriage they lived very high, both being very fond of luxuries, they wine and dined together and life was of the happiest kind.

The lady always exhibited an affectionate love for her husband and he was truly in love with his wife. But they soon found themselves in need of funds and, in order to obtain them, the interest in the paper was disposed of. When their money was spent they came to the Flathead valley and settled on a ranch about six miles south of here, where they have lived for some time. The wife's love disappeared at the same time the fortune did and unhappiness reigned supreme. An old friend appeared on the scene. It seems that the lady had a gentleman friend in St. Paul before she met her husband, whom she admired very much. During the time she was assisting the unfortunate man who shot himself to squander his wealth, it seems there was in her bosom unquestionable affection for another man. This man came to Von Euen's ranch some three months ago and was employed as a farm hand. Considerable talk was made in the vicinity of the ranch about the stranger and the lady, and Von Euen, in order to prevent any more unpleasant remarks paid the fellow what was due him and requested him to leave his place. But this he failed to do, and instead the woman undertook to drive her husband from the place. The quarrels were nearly a daily occurrence. Proceedings for divorce were instituted, which are still pending. Wednesday Von Euen and his wife came to town, she in a wagon and he on horseback. After stopping in town until nearly evening they both started for home at nearly the same time, but he was some distance ahead of her. When he reached Casey's ranch, he stated today, he made up his mind to wait and ask her once more if she would live with him and try and do better. Waiting a few moments, she drove up, and in reply to the question she said she would not. When she refused, he said he told her that he would kill her and himself, but said he did not have any intention of killing her when he said it but now he was sorry that he did not. On his refusing to comply with the request which he made, he cocked the rifle and placed the butt on the ground, putting the muzzle to his left side, leaned over it and pushed the trigger with a stick. The ball entered the body about one inch below the heart and passing through in a slightly upward course, came out near the spinal column. The rifle used was a Winchester.

JUDGE LIDDELL'S DEATH.

One of the Noted Lawyers of Montana Passes From Life.

Special to the Standard.

BOZEMAN, Oct. 4.—Judge Moses J. Liddell died at his home in this city at 11:20 o'clock this morning. He was appointed judge of the Sixth judicial district of Montana in 1888 by President Cleveland. Since he came off the bench he has practiced law in Eastern Montana, of which profession he is an honorable and esteemed member. His friends were shocked when they heard of his death, so sudden it was, although there had been no hope of his recovery since yesterday morning. His remains will be buried in the Bozeman cemetery to-morrow afternoon. Judge Liddell was a native of Virginia, a son of the noted General Liddell. At the time of his death he was 67 years of age.

Military Promotion.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—The president has prescribed a set of rules which have been promulgated by the secretary of war, providing for a system of examination to determine the fitness for promotion of all officers below the grade of major. When congress passed the act of Oct. 1, 1890, providing for such examination, it went into effect immediately, and in order to adjust the scheme to men who had made preparation for examination, requirements were somewhat limited. The law has now been in operation a year, and it is deemed proper to make the examination more searching and to establish a much higher order of requirements as the condition of promotion, so that new rules will be prescribed; but in order injustice shall not be done, all land officers shall be afforded ample time to prepare themselves for the ordeal, as the rules will not be applied until Jan. 1, 1893.

WHAT MIGHT HAVE BEEN

Queen Victoria and the Czar Prevent a Bloody War.

GERMANY'S LITTLE EMPEROR

He Tells of His Desire to Crush France—Lord Salisbury a Wise Counsellor—Peace Reigns.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—The Berlin correspondent of the Herald says: "Had it not been for the excellent common sense of Queen Victoria and the sound judgment of the czar, who in moment of emergency acted in perfect accord, Europe would perhaps this very moment be in the throes of war. The facts are these: Last summer when Emperor William was at Osborne, he, one evening, asked the queen to accord him a confidential conversation upon a matter of utmost importance. The request was accorded, and the emperor said in substance: 'The situation in Germany is intolerable; it cannot last 12 months longer. The country cannot bear the present financial strain required to keep up the present fighting strength. Socialism is daily assuming terrible proportions. Germany's allies, especially Italy, are no longer able to keep up the present pace. The strain is too great on them. France, on the contrary, is becoming stronger and stronger, but France is so isolated, it is absolutely necessary that Germany should seize the first occasion to declare war upon her. The latest moment to which this can possibly be put off is the spring of 1892.' The queen replied: 'As long as I live, I firmly hope peace will be maintained. I am now old, but still feel that my last years shall not be saddened by more blood flowing in Europe. The responsibility that rests upon you is a terrible one. It would, in my opinion, be criminal for any sovereign or statesman to attempt to precipitate events. In any case, what you have said causes me great uneasiness.'"

The queen sent for Lord Salisbury and informed him of this strange conversation and desired him to talk with the emperor about it. Lord Salisbury replied: "I think, if I attempted to discuss the question, the emperor would cut matters short by taking me out of the window. Besides, his majesty might do exactly contrary to what I might suggest. There is, in my opinion, only one thing to do; write an autograph letter to the czar, tell him frankly what has occurred and urge him in the interests of the peace of Europe to lose no time in making a friendly advance toward France in order to convince the emperor that Russia would not consent to see France wantonly attacked. This would cause the emperor to reflect, and in my opinion this is the most effective way of preserving peace. It would be well if England should also simultaneously make an advance toward France."

PRIDE OF THE HOUSEHOLD.

Grover Cleveland's Baby Daughter Will Have a Dimple.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—The home of Grover Cleveland was stared at by many curious eyes to-day. The soft Indian summer air brought thousands to Central park, which is only a block from Cleveland's home. Hundreds sauntered from the park through Sixty-sixth street to view the house where General Grant was so long sick before going to the mountains to die, and where his widow now lives. Turning into Madison avenue the sight-seers strolled up the avenue to look at the house where, according to morning papers, the new born baby was. Opposite the house, across the street, all through the afternoon, were listening curious people, who stood in little knots and groups to look at the house. The open windows let in soft air, which gently lifted the curtains behind them. There were messages of congratulation during the day, but the doctor and messenger boys chiefly made up the callers. Ward came out from the quiet house that the little one and her mother were in a satisfactory condition. The little one's grandmother, Mrs. Cleveland's mother, left the house for a brief airing during the afternoon. The most definite description of the child is to the effect that the baby has light, hazel eyes and there are indications she will be a brunette. There is no doubt whatever she will have a dimple, if all statements of those who have seen her are to be believed, because they all agree on that point; she also agrees that she will be a beauty, not as great a beauty as her mother, possibly, but still a beauty. The baby's outfit of wearing apparel is said to be a dream of tasteful elegance and millinery style. She will have no use for these pretty things of silk and satin and velvet for some time to come, but when she does make her appearance in public she is likely to take the shine off most of the "babies on the block."

RAILWAY TRAINMEN.

The Annual Convention of the Order Will Open To-Day.

GALESBURG, Ill., Oct. 4.—The annual convention of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen of the United States and Canada, opens here to-morrow. Four hundred and twenty-four lodges will be represented. The principal issues to come before the convention are relative to the discharge of the grand trustees by Grand Master Wilkinson, the discharge of switchmen on the Northwestern and the election of officers. Hon. L. S. Coffin of Iowa is here to advocate the necessity of automatic car couplers for cars and Sunday rest for railway employees.

So far as the switchmen's trouble is concerned it is likely the convention will sustain the action of the grandmaster. The latter part of the week some action may be taken on the federation question, but this will depend on the action taken at the meeting this week at Cedar Rapids of the committee of the Brotherhood of Railway Conductors and the Order of Railway Trainmen, on the proposition of a union of the organizations.

He Was Not In It.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 4.—General Ruiso Sandoval has been in this city for the last 30 days. He discusses freely the recent outbreak on the Mexican frontier. He says that although in sympathy with any movement leading to the overthrow of President Diaz, he had absolutely nothing to do with the recent revolution. He regretted not being on the spot, however, and attributes the report of his connection with the affair to the fact that Diaz, being aware any movement of this kind had his sympathy, took it for granted he was one of the leaders, and caused information to that effect to be circulated.

Not of Political Import.

PARIS, Oct. 4.—The Journal des Debats, in an editorial on the disorders which took place in Rome Friday, protests against Italy making the incident of insults offered by pilgrims to the memory of Emanuel, a political affair. It says all right minded Italians are aware that the majority of Frenchmen regard the idea of the restoration of the temporal power of the pope as being absolutely chimerical. The bulk of the newspapers of this country justify the attitude taken by the Roman populace, when they learned of the insult to their dead king.

Their bodies have not yet been recovered. The other persons killed were standing on the banks of the river, to which a number of spectators had been drawn to witness the removal of the steamer, which arrived Saturday from Buffalo with a cargo of coal. The vessel had run aground in the draw and four tugs were putting forth every effort to move it, and one of them, the Parker, exploded. Moss, James Cunningham.

Oil as Fuel.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—Reports have been received by the bureau of American republics to the effect that the experiment of using petroleum for fuel on the Oroya railway in Peru has proven successful. Trials were made at an altitude of 5,800 feet with two Roger locomotives. The oil used was not crude petroleum but a residuum oil, with a fire test of about 350 degrees. In the trials, the average consumption of oil was 35.55 pounds per mile; with coal, it was 79.33. It is reported the Oroya railway company have decided to adopt oil fuel on all their locomotives.

Affairs in Salvador.

CITY OF MEXICO, Oct. 4.—Salvadoristas say: The feeling against President Estia is increasing. He has thrown himself into the arms of adherents of ex-President Calidar. The new minister of foreign affairs, Gallegos, was the power behind Calidar and was cordially hated. This hatred is now extending to President Estia, whose passions have all deserted him. It is remembered Gallegos is intriguing to make mischief between the president and his brother, the commander-in-chief. Gallegos' desires were with Honduras. The assassination of Ayata by Estia's agents in Guatemala was denied.

Supported by Gladstone.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—Gladstone has written to Mr. Scott of Manchester in support of the latter's candidacy for a member of parliament. Gladstone says his good wishes do not imply animosity to Mr. Scott's antagonist, Sir James Ferguson, but to the government's policy, which betrays its honorable name.
